Consider Wind Chills When You Fly

Karen Kalishek

Thought: Civil Air Patrol operations in Wisconsin (our state Wing) apply the following guidelines for flying in cold weather. These parameters have been developed for safety while allowing air crew members to complete missions. It would make sense for all of us who fly to consider the effects of wind chill and to prepare for possible off-airport landings during the winter months. Note that temperature/wind speed combinations that may occur regularly in Wisconsin are in the caution zone.

Wing Guidelines:

- Wind chill temperatures in the caution zone
 - Training flights and all actual Search and Rescue flights are permitted
 - Crews should ensure proper dress and carry additional gear for crew members in case of extended exposure to temperatures
- Wind chill temperatures in the danger zone
 - Flown only under actual Search and Rescue situations
 - Must have approval from the Wing Commander, Wing Vice Commander, or Chief of Staff-Missions
- Wind chill temperatures in the cancel zone
 - NO GO

99s Wisconsin Chapter: Officer Changes and Elections 2019

Fellow Aviatrices!

We are entering the time period for you to consider an elected position within the 99s WI Chapter. Please consider nominating someone (with discussion with them first) or seeking a position within our 99s WI Chapter. The positions that will be elected are the following:

Chairwoman

Vice Chairwoman

Treasurer

Secretary

1 Director

3 Nominating committee (not an actual Officer but elected)

According to our Bylaws and Standing Rules(see attached), these positions are for a year, but can be extended another year by acclamation, if no one seeks to run against you. The exception is the Director which is a 2 year term. We have 2 Directors and we elect one each year.

If you are interested in seeking an officer position, there is the attached form (Intent to seek election) to complete and get to the Nominating Committee chair (Darcy Kulesha dvbkulesha@gmail.com), by our February meeting. We expect to have a slate for the election, to present at the March meeting. Once a slate is determined, the election will happen electronically in April and the results presented at the April meeting. The Officer will assume responsibilities after the Annual June Business meeting.

There is the option to CO-Chair for the Chair, Vice-Chair, and Secretary. This has worked in the past when one person is not able to make all the meetings. It does take good communication with each other to make it work.

If you have any questions or want to discuss positions, please contact Darcy, Trish Horn or Mary Lou Schroeder, members of the Nominating committee.
